Welcome to the Columbia University / Bentley Mills carpet product catalogue!

This catalogue contains approved carpet products for flooring at Columbia University. Listed below are modular, plank and broadloom carpet options for your use. All options are available in both cushion and hardback and all of our carpets are PVC (polyvinylchloride) free!

Bentley will work with your team to re-purpose your carpet and recycle materials responsibly. Columbia's carpet will never end up in a landfill under the Bentley Mills flooring program. Located in California for more than 40 years, our philosophy is rooted in innovation and forward-thinking environmental leadership.

We understand the need for flooring solutions that deliver across a broad spectrum of requirements for the full range of university buildings. Bentley offers hundreds of flexible flooring solutions for a wide range of applications at Columbia University. Our products coordinate seamlessly with each other at all budget levels, so building out a space is as simple as it beautiful!

Product Overview

Bentley Carpet tile is made with type 6,6 Antron® fiber designed to work in the most extreme environments, while providing easy maintenance and a lower environmental impact. Use the TCO analysis calculator to see the many thousands of maintenance dollars that can be saved by using the Antron Bentley System.

Many products can be installed non directionally, meaning they can be laid in any direction and in any order – quickly, easily and with less cost, waste and hassle.

The products listed in blue are featured as part of our FAST TRACK program and can be shipped in as little as 10 days. Bentley doesn't limit backing options or color choices in any of our FAST TRACK products, so the choice is yours!

The room scenes listed below showcase a sample of how each product looks installed.

FULFILL™ Carpet Reclamation Program

Selecting the right carpet is no longer just about the style and intended applications. The carpet reclamation discussion has become significantly greater over the past few years. Being able to ensure the proper handling of carpet at the completion of its useful life is something that individuals and institutions are becoming more conscious of.

Bentley is proud to have assisted in the diversion of over 110 thousand tonnes of carpet since 1994. As a steward of the industry, our FULFILL™ program will assist in the diversion of any type of carpet, whether it's our competitors' products or our own. By identifying the materials in the existing products, we can work with our partner facilities to ensure that the existing carpet will be reclaimed for its full potential value.
